Alumni Parents Meet For Joint Seminar

The St. Joseph's Parents' Club and the Alumni Association met in the college library. Problems concerning various aspects of student life and alumni interest were discussed.

Fifty-two On Dean's List

The Dean's List was published by the Office of the Academic Dean for the first semester of this school year on February 1. It included 52 students, approximately 5% of the student body.

The Dean's List is the honor role of the college and is a distinguished recognition given those students who have attained a 3.5 index (equal to an A-) for the semester.

The new Dean's List included 11 freshmen, 11 sophomores, 10 juniors, and 15 seniors. Five seminarians also achieved the recognition.

Six of the 52 students ranked with a perfect 4 point index. They included seniors — Philip Kummerer, Daniel Pesaresi, and Richard Rosswurm; junior — Charles Schuttrow; and freshmen — Thompson Fischer and Richard White.

Textbook to be Published

The Bruce Publishing Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin has announced the signing of a contract with Professor Paul E. Kelly of St. Joseph's College for the publication of a college textbook entitled "Principles of Marketing."

The contract was negotiated on the basis of a partial manuscript submitted by Professor Kelly which so interested the publishers that they arranged the contract for publication of the completed text.

A previously known writer in the field of marketing, Professor Kelly has contributed to two college textbooks which were published by the Pitman Publishing Company of New York, New York.

A member of the honorary societies Pi Gamma Mu, Phi Kappa and Phi Alpha Theta, Professor Kelly received his academic training at the University of Colorado, Colorado State University and Indiana University. Previous to his teaching career, he was associated in marketing activities with one of the country's largest flour and cereal manufacturers.

Due to poor weather and poor traveling conditions the morning session did not get under way until 11 o'clock. Father Shields, the Admissions Counselor, opened the seminar with a talk on how he would approach the high school student on coming to St. Joseph's. Father Robbins followed up this talk with information on the cost of a college education and the specific requirements of St. Joseph's. With this the morning session was adjourned for lunch.

The afternoon session was called to order at 1:15.

Mr. Scharf, Director of College Placement, opened the session with a talk on the aims and operation of the placement bureau. As Director of Athletics he then reported on the athletic program.

Mr. Holstein, basketball, golf, recruiting, and assistant football coach, spoke on behalf of head coach Ed Dwyer about the potentiality of track and wrestling in the athletic program. At present these two sports play but a minor role in it. The basketball and baseball teams were also discussed. Mr. Don Merki, freshman basketball coach and director of intramurals, talked on the success of the freshman squad and on the renovation of the intramural program.

The meeting was then opened for discussion from the floor and it was suggested that the Parent's Club and the Alumni Association jointly sponsor some basketball games in the Calumet area in future years for the purpose of stimulating interest in the college's athletics. This particular region was chosen because of the large percentage of alumni and parents in the area.

Besides speakers attendance included: Fathers Lefko, Ballman, Otte, Brother Philip, Mr. Joe McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connor, Mr. J. Seroczynski, Mr. John Richert, Mr. Joe Staples, Mrs. John Koerber, Mrs. A. Savino, Mr. R. Joseph Moore, Mr. E. Schrameck, Mr. G. Byerwalter, Mr. R. Maney, Mr. E. Stockman, Mr. Robert Gaynor and Dr. Lou Abbott.

Governor to Address Grads

The Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S., President of Saint Joseph's, recently announced that Governor Matthew E. Welsh of Indiana will deliver the baccalaureate address and receive an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree at the June 3 commencement exercises at the College. Honorary Degrees will also be awarded, at this time, to Judge Moses L. Leopold of Rensselaer, Judge of the Jasper Circuit Court, and Raymond G. Ziegman, vice-president of the Quality Castings Company of Orrville, Ohio.

Governor Welsh, elected as chief executive of Indiana in 1960, is a native of Detroit, Michigan. He received the B.S. Degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1934 and the Doctor of Laws Degree from the University of Chicago in 1937. He has practiced law in Vincennes, Indiana, since being admitted to the Indiana Bar in 1937. The Governor represented Knox

Governor Matthew E. Welsh

County, Indiana, in the Indiana General Assembly from 1941-43 and served as United States District Attorney for the Southern District of Indiana in 1950-51. He was elected State Senator from Knox and Davies Counties in 1955, a seat he held until his election as Governor of Indiana.

Judge Leopold, 85 years of age, was appointed to the bench of the Jasper Circuit Court 30 years ago by Governor Harry G. Leslie. A native of Rensselaer, Judge Leopold was graduated from Rensselaer High School in 1896. After receiving his Law Degree from Indiana University he began practicing law in Rensselaer in 1903. He served as Rensselaer City Attorney for 12 years prior to his elevation to the bench.

Mr. Ziegman, who is a native of Fostoria, Ohio, is an Alumnus of Saint Joseph's College having attended the College from 1916 to 1918. He is currently a member of the College's Board of Lay Trustees. Mr. Ziegman, together with Governor Welsh and Judge Leopold, will receive the Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree.

Slated to Head Art Department

In a letter to Father Harold Diller, C.P.P.S., Secretary Provincial of the Society of the Precious Blood, Father David Van Horn, C.P.P.S., who is currently studying art in Italy on a Fulbright scholarship, writes that there is so much to distract one in Italy that he finds it difficult to strike a balance between the job and joy of living there.

Father Van Horn, who is slated to direct the art department at St. Joseph's College, lives at Faenza, a "town frankly dull, far enough away from the sea, the mountains and Bologna to be interesting." He adds though, Faenza is a perfect spot for hard work with nothing else to do.

Casa del Clero, a residence donated by Cardinal Cicognani to the diocesan priests of Faenza, is the place of his residence while attending school. Father Van Horn says he has two rooms, a private bath, good food and Heat, in the sense that Americans understand indoor heating, "all for forty dollars a month."

As a change of pace, weekend excursions, he says, are wonderful experiences, a welcome and cultural diversion from the working (Continued on Page 3)

Goedert is First to Pass Exam

Patrick J. Goedert, a senior political science major from River Forest, Illinois, has become the first St. Joseph's College student ever to pass the foreign service officers examination. He took the exam December 9 in Chicago.

Goedert must now undergo an oral exam, interview and security check. If he succeeds in these areas, he will qualify for appointment as foreign service officer, class 8, and will spend two years in Washington, D.C., at the State Department and at the Foreign Service Institute of Georgetown University. He will then be ready for service in the career diplomatic corps.

The Foreign service officers exam lasted from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and covered all areas of knowledge. A grade in the 70th percentile or better is passing.

Goedert spent his junior year abroad at the University of Munich in Germany. This year he was one of the 22 St. Joe seniors to be elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Goedert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Goedert, 522 William St., River Forest, Illinois, is a 1958 graduate of Fenwick High School in Oak Park, Illinois.

Dayton Chapter Holds Meeting

The Dayton Area Chapter of the St. Joseph's College Alumni Association held their first meeting of the year in the St. Joseph's Church Rectory in Dayton on January 18, 1962.

Dr. Paul Reichert reported on the St. Joe vs Wilberforce football game played on November 4 of last year which the Dayton Area Chapter attended. He also reported that the chapter hosted the St. Joe team and the coaches at a dinner in Fairborn after the game. Mr. Lloyd and Mr. Bob Gaynor were thanked for their assistance in the planning of the program.

President, Martin Knapp, then gave a report to the chapter on the National meeting held at St. Joseph's campus, October 13 and 14, 1961.

Mr. Ed Dwyer, head coach of the college, reported on the requirements for athletes as decided at the Fall's national alumni meeting. The athletes must have a C average, be in the upper half of their class, have an I.Q. of 110 and must weigh 175 at a minimum. Mr. Dwyer also stated that 12 athletic scholarships were available for incoming freshmen.

The chapter then discussed the annual breakfast-communion which is to be held around the Feast of St. Joseph the Worker late in April. President Knapp appointed Ed Wildenhaus chairman of the program.

Among other business was a talk by Father Shields, College Recruitment Director, on the high quality of education offered by St. Joe despite the fact it is operated on a small level. Also a request of the Dayton Chapter was made by Joe Albers, of the Cincinnati Chapter, to set up for the two chapters a joint homecoming trip to the college this fall. In conclusion Coach Dwyer showed two of the Puma football games from last season for the chapter.

Construction Continues

Construction of the new Faculty House continued through the winter and should be completed late next fall. It is being constructed south of the present cafeteria and the chapel.

We Hear

From

Dear Editor:

I'm writing with a suggestion for the Contact paper. Would it be possible to run a colmun in each issue about books that might be of interest to the alumni? I'm thinking of either a book review type of thing which would, of course, use a given amount of lineage less economically or, a book recommendation type of thing with, perhaps, just a few comments.

The school, with its wide range of faculty interest, experience, and competence could do this, it seems to me, with relative ease. It would be an unexcelled service to those of us who are no longer within the academic framework, need adequate intellectual stimulation and yet have little or no source of new written material in any given field; especially Catholic material. I'm not thinking of theological definitions, moral opinions, etc. These things can be obtained, in simple form, from publications such as Sign and Liguorian. I'm thinking of actual application of Catholic morals, principles, and teaching to everyday life problems (as well, of course, as more technically field-related books, e.g., history, geology, etc.). The only good illustration of the type of book I have is We Hold These Truths by J. Courtney Murray, S.J.; an anthology of his writings concerning politics, international relations, etc.

Sincerely yours,
Vernon E. Olmstead, '57
12270 Sorrento Avenue
Detroit 27, Michigan.

I have looked at the letter from Vernon Olmstead and though I feel that every Catholic college graduate should be interested in just the very things that Vernon mentioned, I do not think that our alumni paper can undertake a regular program of review service. Anyone who has been concerned with the compilation of a regular service realizes that the wider the range, the more complicated it becomes to provide a regular and uniformly good service. However, I think that our alumni should be aware of several wonderful review media. Among these are America and the Commonweal. For the type of material that Mr. Olmstead is most interested in and for a complete review service not only for Catholic material, but of material that might be currently in the news or on popular lists, I would suggest Critic published by the Thomas More Book Store in Chicago.

Sincerely,
Rev. Charles H. Banet, C.P.P.S.
Librarian
Saint Joseph's College.
Rensselaer, Indiana.

Dear Editor:

I would like to say "thank you" for placing my name in the "Alumni Quickies" column of Contact, January, 1962. How you received this information I can only guess, but I'd also like to thank him or them.

I have received many letters from former classmates of "59", in response to your article. The cheer brought in these letters are as much a part of my recovery as my modern tuberculosis drugs. I was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital December 1, 1961 and hope to be home again sometime in June.

If it is possible I would appreciate it if you would run another small article in the same column saying "Thanks" to all the 59ers who have written. I will answer their letters and express my thanks, but I'm sure your paper will be much faster.

Again a big Thank You.

Sincerely,
Norman D. Lozen

Williams Recital

Miss Edna Williams, a young American soprano, presented a recital in the college auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 27.

Miss Williams represented composers like Purcell, Handel, Schumann and Strauss, as well as an Aria from "Manon Lescaut" by Puccini. In her final presentation, she sang several American composers.

Miss Williams professional experiences of the past two years have taken her to the concert halls of Germany. She has just recently returned from Europe where she spent 15 months in Vienna, Austrina, studying German repertoire. This was made possible for her by a John Hoy Whitney fellowship.

Father Van Horn expects to return to the United States in the Italian liner, DAVINCI, leaving on July 29th this summer.

Miss Williams made her first American T.V. appearance last December on Artist Showcase.

The concert itself was given as part of the college concert series which presented concert violinist, Elaine Skorkin, earlier this year.

Bio Lab Has Face Lifted

The college biology laboratories have been completely renovated by the installation of a varied array of new equipment. Considerable re-vamping of electrical and plumbing facilities was also done.

The new equipment was purchased from and installed by the Stearnes Co., Chicago, and the E. H. Sheldon Equipment Co., Muskegon, Mich. Father Wuest supervised and aided in the electrical work, and Father Siegrist managed the entire project.

The biology department tentatively planned the project almost two years ago. Plans for final installation were completed early last year, and the administration gave final approval in November. Fabrication began immediately thereafter and considerable time and labor went into the renovation.

Six stainless steel working tables for the freshman labs and a stainless steel dye sink for the advanced lab were furnished by the Stearnes Co. The working tables, which are 12 feet by 40 inches and stand three feet high, are equipped with wire mold containing convenient outlets for microscope lights. The tables are extra long in order to utilize all available space. The dye sink is 12 feet long and accommodates 12 students at a time.

The E. H. Sheldon Co. furnished cabinets, display cases, island tables and demonstrator tables which are fabricated of metal with a gray-green finish. The tops of the island tables and the instructor's desk are ply-weld black satin finish; all are acid and alkali resistant.

Three banks of fluorescent lights were placed in each of the fresh-

College Approves Speech Major

The faculty of St. Joseph's College has approved a major program in speech, effective next fall.

The student selecting the speech major will be required to take a minimum of 24 semester hours in upper-level courses, including nine hours of public address, nine hours of general survey, and six hours of theater. The curriculum will offer upper-level courses in speech composition, group discussion, play production, theater appreciation, oral interpretation of literature, oral interpretation of the modern drama, persuasion, American public address, and elements of speech improvement.

The speech major will also be required to take, on the lower level, fundamentals of speech, forensic laboratory, and theater laboratory.

Students will still, as before, be able to take a minor in speech with a minimum of 12 upper-level semester hours.

Ralph M. Cappuccilli, associate professor of speech and chairman of the speech department, said that the major program was established "in order to instill an understanding and appreciation of oral rhetoric and its function in a liberal education; to develop the student's resources, ability, and facility for the spoken communication of thought and emotion; to prepare students for graduate study in speech; and to foster an appreciation of theater in our culture."

man and advanced labs. They are insulated to reflect a maximum amount of light for the students' work.

The two smaller research labs were refurnished along with the general and advanced labs. Both were fitted with new cabinets made and installed by local carpenters.

Wins Fr. Rapp Speech Contest

Sophomore Pat Lewis delivered a speech entitled "Outlawing the Communist Party in America" in the college auditorium on January 15 to win the third semi-annual Father Rapp speech contest. Dietwald Gerstner and Pierce McCabe, also sophomores, took the second and third place trophies respectively.

The contest was judged by Father Lawrence Heiman, Dr. Robert Kreyche and Dr. R. W. Morell, all members of St. Joseph's faculty. Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli, head of the speech department, emceed the program.

An audience of nearly 300 students and faculty members attended the contest which is named in honor of Father Ildephonse Rapp, professor emeritus at St. Joseph's. Father Rapp himself taught speech here for some fifty years.

Lewis decried the apathetic attitude of Americans toward the activities of the American Communist party.

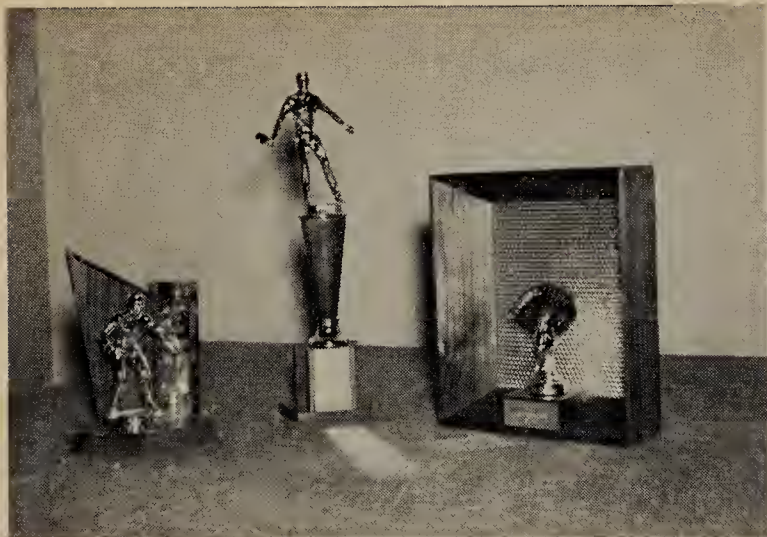

Gerstner's speech, "Militarism: East or West?" was an attempt to show that "aggressive" preparedness is more prevalent in East Germany than in West Germany despite Soviet propaganda.

McCabe spoke on the motivational research being done in "Advertising Today."

One of them, the technique room, contains a new-water still for distilling water and an archplastic sing and drains.

Shortage of storage space has been a pressing problem for the past two years. The new layout makes available about 30-35% more storage space in the labs.

Intramural Program Reorganized; Student Interest Rises

Location of the college and limited off-campus activity have forced the college to place more and more emphasis on the student athletic program each year.

With this necessary emphasis in mind the college reorganized the athletic department during the past summer and took steps which have resulted in greatly heightened student interest in both varsity athletics and intramurals.

The increased emphasis has brought sizeable increases in student participation in the intramural program. By the end of this school term nearly 80 percent of the student body will have participated in one or the other of the sports or tournaments.

Responsible for this intensification of interest is the director of the new intramural program, coach Don Merki, a 1955 graduate of St. Joseph's who, is in his first year as a member of the college coaching staff. He is assisted in the administration of the intramural program by three student assistants, Mike Gattion, Tom Buscarini, and Jim Crook.

The program consists of team sports and the individual sports.

The team sports include football, basketball, 12 and 16, softball, bowling, and volleyball. They are played on a seasonal basis with weekly competition among the members of a certain league. Teams are made up of students living in a particular residence hall and there are usually about 10 teams to a league. The leagues are divided into upperclass and lower-class competition.

Upon completion of a season the top teams of each league compete to vie for tournament honors and for the school championship trophy in the respective sport.

The individual sports, including track, cross country, horseshoes, badminton, ping pong, chess, checkers, pinocle, and bridge only appear in the program as tournament competition. These various tournaments are scheduled throughout the school year.

Schedules of tournaments and regular seasonal games, referees for games, team rosters, and team standings are published and posted on hall bulletin boards all over the campus. These postings keep the students informed of the happenings and in turn help to maintain interest in the program.

Competition in the intramural program is basically between halls. The residents of any one hall can band together to form any number of teams as determined by the sport and the players per team. Halls are then awarded points for percentage of participating residents, for wins recorded, and final standings.

Near the end of the school year, the total points for each hall is determined and the winning hall is awarded the IM all sports trophy for that particular year.

Also at the end of the school year, the athletic department sponsors an awards banquet in the college cafeteria. At this banquet trophies are awarded each team winning a team event and each individual winning in either singles or partner competition.

Bridge, introduced in the program this year, has become quite popular.

Basketball, the most popular team sport on campus, gets a little rough and the competition is keen.

Pumas Finish 7-14 Season

Saint Joseph's Pumas closed their 1961-62 basketball season February 22 by dropping an 88-76 contest to Wabash at Crawfordsville, Ind. It was the fourth consecutive loss for Saint Joseph's and gave them a 7-14 season record.

"A team should develop as the season goes along," explained Puma head coach, Jim Holstein, "until they have reached their peak at the end."

"But we didn't do this," he added, "The team was progressing well up until the second Ball State game (Feb. 10) but after that we went downhill."

Saint Joseph's copped their only Indiana Collegiate Conference win February 10 when they defeated Ball State 87-85 at Muncie, but then lost their final four games.

"I was very disappointed with our play after the Ball State game," Holstein said, "We weren't alert mentally or physically and our strong points, particularly rebounding, broke down."

Holstein cited the fact that Wabash out rebounded the Pumas 52-36. Nineteen Wabash rebounds were offensive.

"The loss of Phil Bergen was also a blow to us," Holstein said. Bergen was a 6-4 forward who saw action in just one game this year.

Despite the losing record, the Pumas closed the season with several bright spots, chief of which was a balanced scoring attack featuring five men who averaged over ten points per game.

Sophomore guard, George Post, led Saint Joseph's with 298 points and a 14.9 average. He was followed by Jim O'Donnell (243;

Bowlers Dump Notre Dame; Lead Conference

St. Joseph's bowling squad takes time out to pose. They are, l. to r.: Harry Hansen, Steve Jupinka, Pat DelCotto, Father Boniface Dreiling (coach), Jim Madden, Rick Hanson, Joe Fliszar, and Wally Nedza (capt.)

Since their January 7th victory over Notre Dame, the St. Joseph's varsity bowlers have maintained top honors in the Midwest Intercollegiate Bowling Conference. They now hold first place by a slim margin of three points with a 6-1 record.

11.6), Jerry Patchman (220; 11.6), Capt. Jim Crowley (211; 11.6), and Russ Marcinek (195; 12.2).

Despite the rebounding lapse near the seasons end, the Pumas also out rebounded their opponents 952-892. Art Voellinger (151), Jerry Patchman (144), Mickey Clark (14), and Jim O'Donnell (132) led Puma rebounders.

The Puma keglers dumped the Notre Dame team taking all five games and the series for an 11-0 win. Points are scored 2 for each game and one for series. A phenomenal high series of 1064 was recorded by Pat DelCotto who also claimed high game honors with a 267.

On February 11th the Joemen again rolled their way on to victory by defeating the Loyola five, 7-4. This win set their seasonal record at 5-1.

In a match on February 18th (originally scheduled for April 1) against DePaul the Puma bowlers kept up their hot pace by winning 9-2. Junior, Steve Jupinka, claimed high individual series for the Pumas with a 978 total.

Although the Pumas have run up some spectacular scores (5035 team series against Notre Dame) they retain the lead in the MIBC by a narrow margin of only three points over second place, Notre Dame. There is still three matches remaining this season with the final against Notre Dame. Then on May 13th the Puma five will match skills with other members of the MIBC in the MIBC tournament which is being held at Loyola this year.

The St. Joe varsity regulars include senior, Wally Nedza and four juniors, Harry Hansen, Rich Hanson, Pat DelCotto, and Steve Jupinka. This same five captured the MIBC tournament last year and a repeat performance is anticipated in this year's tourney.
